

Practical Infection Control Training in your Dental Practice

“Office-based health-care facilities responsible for instrument processing services shall ensure appropriate education and training for staff responsible for instruments”.

Australian and New Zealand Standards (AS/NZS 4815:2006)

“The registration standard requires that practitioners must complete a minimum of 60 hours of CPD activities over 3 years”.

Dental Board of Australia

To ensure you comply with these standards it is essential that you and your staff are trained in the latest infection control procedures and protocols, to protect your patients, staff and practice.
